Support Asked On Cuba Stand

Rusk Makes Plea
To Latin America

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk is expected to urge Latin American foreign ministers today to back tough new economic and political measures aimed at isolating and weakening Cuba.

Rusk obviously would also like a general endorsement of U.S. warnings to Fidel Castro's Soviet-backed regime that it faces U.S. military action if it threatens or uses force against any U.S. or inter-American interests.

Washington officials were not sure how far other American governments would want to go on this issue.

The 20-nation inter-American foreign ministers conference with Rusk as chairman will continue for two days behind closed doors.

President Kennedy arranged a luncheon for the delegation chiefs and is expected to set forth his own views on the Cuban situation. At his news conference two weeks ago, Kennedy warned that the United States would act alone if necessary in event of a serious Cuban Communist military threat to the United States or any American nation.

Kennedy then made clear that under present circumstances the situation in Cuba does not require military action.

In the U.S. view, however, it does require other steps designed both to contain Communist power in Cuba and to put new pressures on Castro with the ultimate purpose of bringing about his downfall.

Rusk and Assistant Secretary of State Edwin M. Martin have held talks with Latin American officials during the past week which have encouraged them to believe a solid front of opposition to Castro and the buildup of Soviet arms in Cuba is developing.

The United States would like to see virtually all remaining trade — with the exception of some food and medical supplies — between Latin American countries and Cuba cut off.

Also to be considered by the directors are possible interstate designation, the Oct. 17 ribbon-cutting ceremonies for a section of the highway in East Liverpool and the probability of similar ceremonies in the Ashtabula area.

Led Students Against Federal Marshals

Walker Arrested In Ole Miss Rift

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Former Maj. Edwin A. Walker's crusade in behalf of Mississippi segregationists has ended with the war hero's arrest on charges of leading an insurrection against the United States.

The federal action Monday afternoon ended two stormy days in Oxford for the one-time soldier, center of one controversy after another before and after his 1961 resignation from the Army.

Walker, commander of federal troops in the Little Rock, Ark., desegregation crisis, this time was on the other side.

The highest-ranking Justice Department officer in Oxford, Deputy Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach ordered Walker's arrest, after the 53-year-old Texan led one student charge against federal marshals on the University of Mississippi campus, and later appeared in the midst of rioting in downtown Oxford.

Shortly after he waived a preliminary hearing, and failed to make $100,000 bond set for the four charges against him, Walker was flown to a federal prison in Springfield, Mo., which specializes in psychiatric care.

After talking to Walker nearly an hour Monday night, Dr. Russell Settle, the center's warden,

The Columbiana Pump Co. renewed its pact with Local 4022. Employees in the bargaining unit total 117. The firm employs 138. The old contract expired Sunday.

Woman Injured In 2-Car Crash

One person received minor injuries in a two-car collision at 4:35 p.m. Monday on Route 14 Alt., four-tenths of a mile east of Salem, the Ohio Highway Patrol reported.

Beatrice Bailey, 57, of Ontario, Calif., a passenger in a car driven by Ruth A. Dodge, 25, of East Palestine, received lacerations of right elbow and a whiplash injury. She was not treated.

The accident happened when the Dodge car stopped to make a left turn and was struck in the rear by a car driven by Beatrice Johnson, 40, of Salem, patrolmen said. The latter was cited by the patrol for failure to maintain a safe distance between vehicles.

Barnett's Case Deadline Nears

But Governor Hurls
New Blast At JFK

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — The deadline for Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett to purge himself of federal contempt of court charges neared today, after the still-defiant governor hurled a new verbal blast at President Kennedy.

In a television speech, Barnett put blame for violence that has accompanied desegregation of the University of Mississippi "directly with the President of the United States."

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals here gave Barnett until 11 a.m. today to show that he intends to comply with its orders that made James H. Meredith the first known member of his race to attend the 114-year-old state university.

Barnett, convicted last Friday of civil contempt, faced imprisonment and a 10,000 daily fine, unless he purged himself by the deadline.

Lt. Gov. Paul Johnson, convicted of similar contempt the following day, faced a $5,000 daily fine if he did not act to purge himself by the same deadline.

In his speech, carried nationally over the Columbia Broadcasting System Monday night, Barnett blamed "reckless, trigger-happy federal marshals" for being "directly responsible for the violence" at Ole Miss.

Eight of the appeals court's nine members, sitting en banc, convicted Barnett. The governor did not appear. Attorneys for the state were refused permission to participate in the case.

The eight judges were unanimous in finding Barnett guilty, although three dissented from the part of the sentence that levied the fine.

The court defined compliance as (1) ceasing all resistance to desegregation orders by the federal courts and (2) maintaining law and order and cooperating with officers and agents of the courts.

The appellate court cited two instances where Barnett personally turned back Meredith. It said his conduct was designed for the "deliberate and announced purpose of preventing compliance with the orders of this and other federal courts."

Meredith's admission had been directed by both the appeals court and a U.S. district court for Southern Mississippi.

Johnson, who turned Meredith away from the campus last Wednesday, also failed to show up at his contempt hearing, conducted by three judges.

Meredith Stays At Apartment Under Guard

Crisis Is Largest
Federal-State Clash
Since Civil War

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Federal troops arrested more than two dozen persons carrying weapons during the night as they tightened an uneasy security around the University of Mississippi.

The armed troops, wary of the slightest boilup in the bitter segregation dispute, arrested anyone found with any type of weapon.

James H. Meredith, the 29-year-old Negro who is the hub of the state vs. federal government hassle, spent his first night as an Ole Miss student in a residence hall flooded with spotlights.

One man and his son, 14, arrested during the early hours, had a collection that included one rifle and two shotguns, one saber, two hunting knives and ammunition.

The swelling force of federal troops, bayonets fixed and rifles ready, arrested the first woman since the flareup began. She was held overnight when soldiers found a shotgun in her car.

In New Orleans, La., Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett had a date in federal court on a contempt citation, harvested from his vain effort to thwart Meredith's entrance as the 114-year-old university's first knowingly admitted Negro student.

"I call on the President to put a stop to further violence by immediate removal of Meredith and the withdrawal of federal troops and marshals from Mississippi soil," the 64-year-old governor said in a speech telecast across the nation Monday night.

Barnett blamed federal intervention for the weekend segregation riots and the deaths of a French newsmen and an Oxford repairman.

Washington authorities countered that Barnett's failure to provide adequate police protection caused the strife.

There was a mounting buildup of nearly 12,000 soldiers including the crack 101st Airborne, the paratroop outfit that quelled the 1957 school integration violence at Little Rock, Ark.

Troops streamed into Oxford, outnumbering the college hamlet's citizenry 2-1 in the strongest display of federal might since the end of the Civil War nearly a century ago.

The troops arrested more than 200 persons since Sunday night, about one-third of them students. Most of them went free, but more than a dozen stayed in custody to face various charges, including

School Bus Operation 'Big Business'

8,100 Pupils Ride
Vehicles Daily
In County

By CAROL CROFT

School bus transportation has assumed all the proportions and anxieties of "big business" in Columbiana County.

The vast scope of its operations is apparent in the fact that more than 8,100 children in the county ride the buses to and from schools, according to area school administrators.

The total represents 59 per cent of public school students in Salem, Lisbon, Leetonia, Columbiana and the Columbiana County rural system.

Ohio state law states that transportation privileges must be provided for elementary pupils who reside more than two miles from the school they attend, and high school pupils may be transported at the discretion of school authorities. Fortunately for students in this area, most of the local school boards have revised this distance to one mile for all students, with some exceptions, such as children having handicaps making it dangerous to walk to school.

A TOTAL OF 5,121 PUPILS in the Columbiana County rural school system are transported to and from school each day, James L. McBride, school superintendent, said. This is 91 per cent of the total enrollment.

The 77 county buses travel 3,063 miles daily.

buses cover 62,000 miles a year, not including trips to athletic, music or other extracurricular functions, Deane Phillips, school supervisor of child accounting, reports.

Another figure to be conjured with is the annual cost of operating these vehicles. Approximately $255,000 was spent on school bus maintenance and repairs in this area last year. This includes driver vers' salaries, gas, oil, repairs and all other phases involved.

Although the figure may appear excessive at first glance, it is de-

Classes Move Into Annex

United Board Hires Teacher, 4 Others

United Local School Board of Education Monday night hired a teacher, two custodians and two substitute custodians.

Blanchard Lewis of Wellsville was employed to teach the fourth grade at a salary of $5,170 a year. His appointment completes the teaching staff, C. M. Brautigam, school superintendent, reported.

Franz Scott of RD 3, Salem, was hired as full-time custodian to replace Carl Liber who asked to be released after accepting full-time employment in Salem. Scott will receive $1.35 per hour.

Both new men will serve one month on an approval basis.

Earl Flemming and Leonard Phillips have been added to the substitute custodian staff. Each will be on call and will receive $1.35 per hour for their services.

Brautigam reported that the annex has been completed to a point enabling two of the fifth grade groups to move into the new quarters Monday. The other two groups will move in as soon as a furnace is installed so that the rooms may be properly heated.

The superintendent also reported that the faculty of the school system is 100 per cent professional, according to membership in professional organizations.

Each of the 54 faculty members belongs to the United Education Association, the Columbiana County Education Association, the East Central Ohio Teachers Association, the Ohio Education Association and the National Education Association.

Brautigam expressed enthusiasm for what he termed the fine educational spirit displayed by members of the faculty and for

Schirra Readies For Space Trip

'Daisy' May Delay
Astronaut's Flight

BULLETIN

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Improving weather conditions in Atlantic recovery areas today brightened hopes that astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. will be launched Wednesday on his intended six-orbit around the world mission.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr., his eyes on a nine-hour space trip Wednesday, may be foiled by a tricky wind with a feminine name.

She is tropical storm Daisy, and her whirling winds in the Atlantic had increased by Monday night. Space officials, cautious, but unconvinced, went ahead anyway with plans for Schirra's six orbits around the earth.

Schirra took part in a simulated six-orbit mission, riding through a dress rehearsal of the countdown, the blast-off, the early orbits and the landing.

He and his backup pilot, Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr., underwent exhaustive pre-flight physical examinations. Dr. Howard Minners, flight surgeon, said both astronauts were in excellent condition "and ready to fly."

But Daisy still swirled along. Her highest winds had increased to about 40 miles an hour. By 5 p.m. Monday she was above Puerto Rico.

Schirra, 39, a Navy commander, will begin his final preparations today, as technicians load fuel into the Atlas rocket that will send him and his Sigma 7 spacecraft on their flight, possibly the last before an American astronaut spends a full day in space. Space officials, who had previ-

Needed are black and white thread, darning cotton, medium size scissors and thimbles, assorted buttons, snaps, hook and eye fasteners and tape measures.

Salem churches contributing used clothing for Church World Service are requested to include eight cents a pound for mailing. The First Presbyterian Church is headquarters for the used clothing collection.

The Salem council sponsors the sewing of puppets at Westminster House the third Tuesday of each month. The puppets are used by Salem hospitals. Interested women of the community are invited to participate in the sewing.

At the recent executive meeting, Mrs. Bruce Milligan read minutes of the May 9 meeting, and Mrs. Herman Stratton gave a report of the state convention held at Wittenberg College June 27-29.

problems of modern living. One of the main tasks of education in any society is to teach the people how to deal with the realities of their existence.

In a savage or barbaric society this isn't too difficult. As soon as a lad learns how to till the soil, or to hunt and kill game, he is properly regarded as qualified to grab a bride and set up housekeeping. He's a man of the world, and he fits into that world normally and naturally and with a minimum of strain.

As a society becomes more complex, however, the problem of properly educating its young becomes steadily more complex, too.

In earlier days in America it was enough for a man to learn reading, writing, arithmetic—and some kind of trade by which he could earn his bread and butter. It was nice if he also knew which teams played at the battle of Thermopylae, and why Rome rose and fell—but it wasn't strictly necessary.

The theory of education today seems to be to cram more and more culture and information into our youth in order that they will feel more at ease in a civilization that emphasizes leisure.

But to many thoughtful observers it appears that the plight of many grownups is a result of not being taught how to cope with the realities of civilization as it actually is.

If we had the power to modify the school system, we'd teach less ancient history and offer instruction in such matters as follows:

How to fill out a government form. The ability to fill out a government form without a nervous breakdown is the truest mark of an educated man.

How to get along with women. This is the second most essential skill needed for confident living in a changing world.

How to stand in line gracefully. How to use credit cards and still avoid bankruptcy.

A hobby that will enable you to develop your mind while waiting for your wife to get dressed.

How to get a broken gadget in your home fixed without agreeing to adopt the repair man or to finance his family on a trip to Europe.

How to find a parking space. These are the most pressing problems a civilized man faces today, and until we develop an educational system that enables us to solve them all the other learning we stuff into our heads isn't going to help much in creating the better life civilization is supposed to bring.

WEST BRANCH PUPILS SEE TEST CAR — This automobile was demonstrated by Jack Bittner, Nationwide Insurance safety engineer, for assembled pupils at West Branch High School at Damascus this afternoon. Bittner and Don Abels of Damascus disproved, in test driving, that you can't "stop on a dime." West Branch students were given an opportunity to drive the car. Three revolvers on the bumper fire marks on the pavement when the driver sees the stop signal, slams on the brakes, and brings the car to a dead stop.

Pressing Problems

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Did you ever see a man who'd studied algebra in high school try later in life to make out his income tax report unaided?

Few sights are more pitiful. Did you ever see a man with two college degrees try to fight his way through a throng of women shoppers in a supermarket in an attempt to reach the canned dog food department? He's equally pitiful.

The question arises as to whether our modern educational system any longer fits men to face the problems of modern living.

One of the main tasks of education in any society is to teach the people how to deal with the realities of their existence.

In a savage or barbaric society this isn't too difficult. As soon as a lad learns how to till the soil, or to hunt and kill game, he is properly regarded as qualified to grab a bride and set up housekeeping. He's a man of the world, and he fits into that world normally and naturally and with a minimum of strain.

As a society becomes more complex, however, the problem of properly educating its young becomes steadily more complex, too.

In earlier days in America it was enough for a man to learn reading, writing, arithmetic—and some kind of trade by which he could earn his bread and butter. It was nice if he also knew which teams played at the battle of Thermopylae, and why Rome rose and fell—but it wasn't strictly necessary.

The theory of education today seems to be to cram more and more culture and information into our youth in order that they will feel more at ease in a civilization that emphasizes leisure.

But to many thoughtful observers it appears that the plight of many grownups is a result of not

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Concern For Child's Speech

How would you like to turn your child into a stutterer? The thought probably horrifies you. If it doesn't, it should—and yet this deep concern to prevent stuttering has been found by Dr. Wendell Johnson and others who have studied the problem to be apparently the only cause of stuttering.

Dr. Brandstadt

What happens is that a parent or sometimes a teacher listens carefully to a normal child's speech to detect hesitation or repetition of words or sounds. These will be detected in the speech of any normal child, especially if he is speaking about something that fills him with wonder, enthusiasm, or excitement.

Fortunately most parents consciously or unconsciously recognize this as perfectly normal and ignore it, but in a few less fortunate cases the parent becomes alarmed and calls attention to the supposed defect with a show of supposed disapproval. This conveys to the child a feeling of self-consciousness and anxiety which is a powerful block to relaxed speech. Thus are sown the first seeds of stuttering.

Time after time doctors who have made a special study of speech defects have examined a child who was diagnosed as a stutterer on or about the day the defect was first noticed and compared him with other children in his own group whose speech was considered normal.

In every case they were unable to detect any difference between the speech of the stutterer and that of the normal children.

The longer the concern over the stuttering goes on the more deep-seated the child's self-consciousness about his speech becomes and the harder it is to overcome. Stuttering then is one of those so-called nervous conditions that develops only after it has been diagnosed.

The obvious lesson to be learned from these facts is the importance of prevention, not by trying to train a child, who has become literally terrified of his own efforts to speak, not to stutter, but by completely ignoring the normal hesitations and repetitions that at times accompany the speech of all of us.

In this connection it is of some interest to know how the normal child learns to talk in the first place. A baby is surrounded by sounds — some harsh and grating — some pleasant and musical. These are all associated with pleasant or unpleasant emotions. A mother's cooing, laughing and singing are so gratifying that the infant tries to repeat them as a means of recalling or prolonging his pleasure.

The wise mother who must leave a baby in a crib or playpen when she goes into another room will continue to talk or sing to him. This not only reassures the child but also hastens his ability to speak, provided there is no impairment of hearing. It has been shown conclusively that a child who is not cuddled, cooed at and sung to, or who hears little but scolding, is slow to learn to talk and is not likely ever to become a fluent speaker.

Truly, from the cradle to the grave it is love that makes the world go around.

It's The Truth!

Al Parker

We were told that Mary Pickford, the star of early motion pictures, is also known for her wisdom, and it is interesting to read that she once said, "There is always another chance. This thing that we call 'failure' is not the falling down, but the staying down." Such truisms are worth repeating, just as it is worth saying again that we are here to serve you for your greatest economy and satisfaction, for we know that is also the way to serve our own company's growth.

Beating a GI At Own Game

It might be as interesting for the U.S. Army as it would be for the rest of us to tell exactly what it means by "guerrilla force."

Whatever it means already has led to the idea of an "antiguerrilla force," which is comparable with an antimissile. That, of course, means there will be an anti-antimissile and so on.

Each military force produces a counterforce, which produces in turn a counter-counterforce. Now that we have an antiguerrilla force in the making—a five-year project announced by Deputy Secretary Roswell L. Gilpatrick of the Defense Department—there will be an anti-antiguerrilla force in due time.

Yet no one is clear yet about a guerrilla force. What, exactly, is it?

In military tradition, a guerrilla fighter is an irregular, with heavy overtones of independence and addicted to unorthodox tactics. Guerrillas are self-reliant and resourceful. They do not depend on strong command control but strike out on their own.

They never make the mistake of meeting the enemy head-on; they harass, they sabotage, they heckle and hinder but they live by the rule that he who fights and runs away lives to fight another day. Their commanders hold authority on a basis of proved performance. They command respect or they do not command anything.

Guerrillas do not need five men shuffling papers, driving command cars, taking inventory and allocating supplies to back up each combatant who fires a gun. They may be out of touch with GHQ for long periods. They expect no coddling and get none. They are individualists.

The catch is that these are the specifications for infantrymen, and nobody before ever called a GI a guerrilla. Perhaps everybody has been using wrong names. If a GI dogface is a guerrilla, an antiguerrilla would be something tough enough to beat a dogface at his specialty of winning wars singlehanded.

They don't make human beings that tough.

Red China And the Bomb

Communist China celebrated Oct. 1 as its national day, marking establishment of Red rule throughout the mainland in October 1949.

Sooner or later somebody has got to be right. For more than two years, observers with varying degrees of sophistication have picked out one Red Chinese demonstration or holiday after another as a likely occasion for detonation of the nation's first atomic device.

Recently a U.S. Disarmament Agency official predicted China would join the nuclear club "within a matter of months," though he later described the remark as careless.

The National Planning Association, in a policy statement and technical report issued as long ago as January 1960, included Red China as one of 11 nations capable of making nuclear weapons in the relatively near future.

The Soviet Union is known to have helped build Communist China's first nuclear reactor and cyclotron.

China enjoys heavy deposits of thorium and uranium. Nevertheless, producing plutonium is no simple task. The principle of the pure fission bomb is now widely understood. Scientists can readily obtain all needed basic data except for details of detonation design and isotope separation. The N.P.A. estimated almost three years ago that a would-be nuclear power would have to spend about $100 million to produce its first bomb and devote five years to the task.

The atom bomb in the hands of Red China, whatever it might do for its prestige in Asia, is not the militarily awesome thing it might seem. The weapon is virtually useless without a delivery system, and as France is finding out right now, delivery systems are not easily come by and are excruciatingly expensive.

Proposing a Court Reform

There will be outcries of rage during the session of the United States Supreme Court beginning today and running until next summer.

Indignant citizens will charge the court and its individual members with all the assorted offenses common to the foulest enemies of society. One such citizen appeared on television last week fulminating against the court as an "anti-Christ" influence because of its school prayer decision last June.

In connection with desegregation trouble in Southern states it is a certainty that Dixie legalists will be suggesting ways of interpreting the Constitution that, had they been used during the early period of interpretation, would have knocked the props from under the federal system while it was still under construction.

It is possible, too, that one or more members of the Supreme Court might have to be replaced this term by President Kennedy; he already has named two justices. Whenever this is done, commentators have a Roman holiday of dazzling speculation, guessing what the new man will think.

Most of their guessing is futile. Like all other speculation about court business it also is dangerous. The school prayer decision is a case in point.

Because of early speculative misinformation about this decision disseminated in the insane hustle-bustle of rushing slapdash interpretations of court decisions to news media before the decisions had been interpreted carefully, a needless issue was raised.

Nothing now can dislodge the mistaken belief that the Supreme Court ruled against prayer last June. All it said was that prayer is too meaningful ever to be touched by any political authority, which is why the Founding Fathers wrote the First Amendment to the Constitution.

There needs to be a drastic reform in the release of Supreme Court information. All decisions should be interpreted by the authority of the Supreme Court justices themselves when released. They should agree on official abstracts to prevent what happened on the school prayer decision—a misunderstanding whose mischief may endure for years to come.

Now comes fall window washing time—just one big pane after another.

Church Accomplishment

The dedication program was marked by the attendance of state and general conference elders for a time of Christian fellowship and decision. The community congratulates them on their achievement.

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: I would hate to have some of your recent letters fall into the wrong hands. Such as your latest one. What are you trying to do, boy?

It's not popular to talk about irreconcilable differences in America. The last time we had them here, we had the War Between the States. Are you getting ready for another Fort Sumter?

You're right about irreconcilable differences. We have them — and not only between the North and the South. That's a regional difference. It's another type of differences that worries me.

It's differences that setup head-on clash between people on the same street, in the same neighborhoods, in the same towns.

It's differences that make it impossible for citizens to agree on what kind of a country they love — their kind or the kind that no good so-and-so next door has in mind. Let me tell you something.

Peoples used to be as bitter about things as they are now, maybe more so. But when the chips were down they gritted their teeth and stood shoulder to shoulder with people they despised until they'd done what needed to be done.

I'm not sure we are able to do that now. When you hear the wobbleheads on the other side tell what they have in mind for this country and it's 100 per cent different from what you have in mind it's tough to think about getting along with them.

This is not a problem legalists can chew over, like the problem between the federal government and the states' rights people. This is a problem of defining national purposes and holding people together under stress.

"People say they are bothered by the morale of this nation; they don't think we have the confidence in ourselves we once had. If this is so, the reason could be the way we are segmenting ourselves so drastically that we are beginning to resemble the French.

We are interested in burying the hatchet in the skulls of our enemies. When we kiss and make up, it's a trap to get the opposition off guard long enough to put a knife in its back.

But you and Aunt Effie aren't this way, you say. That's because of two things — our age and our nature. We are old enough to understand the futility of hate. Besides, we never have been really intolerant of anything except intolerance.

I hope I am wrong about another Fort Sumter. I hope your generation is not splintering itself into irreconcilable factions over the Civil War issues that flared into flame 100 years ago.

I hope bitterness has not poisoned this country so severely it is impossible for people to get together. I hope the special bitterness erupting in Southern states will scare other irreconcilables into looking for more places they can stand together instead of for more things that will keep them apart.

I hope we'll always be able to say, "God bless America" without waiting for an irreconcilable to sneer, "Not if it's the kind of America you want."

Come to think of it, I hope my letters won't fall into the wrong hands, either. Some people who don't want what I want would string me up for having irregular thoughts. You aunt and I send regards to you and your family and hope we'll all continue to be wanting the same things.

UNCLE GEORGE

By DAVID LAWRENCE

There is nothing in the Constitution or in the laws passed by Congress which authorizes use of federal troops to compel any public educational institution to admit a certain student just because he demands that he be enrolled.

David Lawrence
an opportunity to be heard by the full membership of the Supreme Court of the United States in a dispute between state and federal authority.

There is nothing in the Constitution which even mentions "education" as one of the subjects coming within the powers of the federal government.

Whatever authority the Department of Justice or the federal courts claim today in this field is derived from a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in 1954 which gave no legal reason but only "sociological" considerations as an argument for reversing an 1896 decision that permitted "separate but equal" facilities in dealing with segregation.

The 1954 decision cited the 14th Amendment as the base for its ruling, but the amendment was never legally adopted by the necessary number of states.

In fact, the legislatures of some of the Southern states were compelled at the point of the bayonet by federal troops to "ratify" it. This happened in 1868 — three years after the War Between the States was over. The Supreme Court has never been willing to rule on the validity of the process by which the 14th Amendment was allegedly ratified.

YET ONE OF the 10 original amendments — known as the "Bill of Rights" and duly ratified in 1691 — does say that no person shall be "deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of law."

Gov. Barnett nevertheless has been threatened with jail — without "due process of law."

Last Saturday Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy, in a telephoned address to the American Bar Association convention at San Francisco, said the distinguished lawyers of Mississippi had not spoken out in the battle over integration.

Apparently, Mr. Kennedy didn't note the speech made in the Senate two days before by Sen. John C. Stennis of Mississippi, one of the ablest lawyers in the country. He has sat on the bench. He is one of the fairest-minded men in the Senate.

He told of the origin of the case of James Meredith, the Negro applicant, as a private suit against the board of trustees of Mississippi's state university and now a learned judge of the U.S. District Court ruled that Mississippi college authorities were justified in denying admission to Meredith.

Sen. Stennis described the subsequent legal battles in the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. He referred to the fact that in the Circuit Court of Appeals one judge said he thought Meredith would be a troublemaker and should be denied admission.

BUT THE MAIN POINT of criticism made by Sen. Stennis was that Mississippi was being denied a hearing by the Supreme Court of the United States.

The Constitution specifically provides that the Supreme Court must hear as a matter of "original jurisdiction" all cases involving a conflict between a state and the federal government and that the lower courts have no right to decide such a question.

But only one member of the highest court — Justice Black — ruled on it, though he claims he consulted the other judges individually, since the court was not in session. He doesn't say whether he did this by telephone or by personal visits. The case arose recently during the time the Supreme Court members were on vacation. Certainly no opportunity afforded the defendants for oral argument by their attorneys before the entire court.

"This," says Sen. Stennis, "is certainly not judicial consideration of the case on its merits. This is not the type of searching thought and application of legal principles which should be given such a serious case. Is it really true that a governor might be held in contempt of court, or sent to jail, or a sovereign state might be invaded by federal troops and its citizens terrorized at the point of bayonets, on this fragmentary attention by one judge?"

SENATOR STENNIS also pointed out that on three separate occasions the Senate had "soundly defeated proposals to give the attorney general the very authority to exercise the powers which he has assumed." Sen. Stennis referred to the substitution of the attorney general as a plaintiff in court for a private citizen.

Sen. James O. Eastland of Mississippi — who has been for many years, chairman of the all-important Judiciary Committee of the U.S. Senate — said to the Senate:

"If the day has come when not only a citizen of Mississippi, but also the governor of that great state, can be dragged across state line by federal marshals or troops and subjected to the dictates of appellate judges appointed to their cushy jobs for life, then judicial tyranny is a reality and not a fiction."

There is serious doubt from a legal standpoint whether a president has the right to send troops into a state under the circumstances existing in Mississippi. This correspondent made the same criticism five years ago when President Eisenhower ordered federal troops to Little Rock, Ark.

Whatever one's individual feelings may be about segregation or desegregation, it seems only fair to express agreement with Sen. Stennis that the whole case should be "heard on its merits by the Supreme Court."

It seems fair also to suggest that the fraudulent method of "Ratifying" the 14th Amendment — on which the whole series of court rulings and new executive orders mobilizing federal military forces are based today — should be opened up for trial after 94 years of tragic silence by the Supreme Court of the United States.

"—If They Mean To Have A War Let It Continue Here . . ."

U.S. Double-Crossed by Norway

By VICTOR RIESEL

Apparently the Norwegians do not take Cuba as a personal insult. That's regrettable since so many of us took the Nazi occupation of Norway quite personally and helped to keep their underground and the fleeing Norse labor leaders alive.

But times change and the other day the Norse foreign minister told some of us here that Communist Cuba is essentially an American problem. And that Norwegian ships will continue to carry Communist supplies to Communist Cuba.

This soon will become a Norwegian problem. Foreign Minister Lange has forgotten that Norway runs a seafarers' union in the United States. It is here by grace of the State Department. Not only does the Norwegian Seamen's Union have a headquarters in Brooklyn, it has offices in other big American ports. This union is exempt from our own labor laws.

There also is in Brooklyn a tax-exempt Norwegian Seamen's House, replete with 85 rooms and 136 beds.

THIS IS FINE, except for our merchant seamen — some 40,000 of whom have lost their jobs to sailors of foreign merchant fleets. Norway's freighters alone carry more than 15 per cent of America's cargo to other world ports. Our own ships operated by members of such organizations as the American Merchant Marine Institute, carry only 10 per cent of our own overseas cargo.

At least 50 Norwegian ships a month put into New York. Some of these vessels go on into the Orient, picking up transshipments in such harbors as Singapore. Then they shuttle on to Communist China and back to Cuba and the United States.

Most of these Norwegian ships don't touch a Norwegian port for years. They simply ply between the United States and other national waterfronts.

A researcher was told by a Norwegian authority himself that fully 50 per cent of the Norwegian ship crews "never" get back to Norway.

The other half are rotated from time to time. Replacements are flown over to the United States. While in New York awaiting their ships so they can replace the men who have been away from home for years, they stay at the Norwegian Seamen's House.

Thus the Norwegian Seamen's Union is actually a permanent labor organization here with a permanent staff. Its leader, Einar Johansen has lived in New York for a decade or so.

RECENTLY one of the union officials said that he has no problem he can't solve by contacting the State Department. Joe Curran, leader of the National Maritime Union, told this column that the Norwegian official said this to him at a recent conference: "All I have to do is lift the phone and call your foreign office (State Department)."

Thus the Norwegian seamen replace our seafarers and the Norwegian ship owners take business away from our own merchant fleet, which is slowly dwindling for lack of cargoes.

Curran now is working on a boycott of those ships which put into United States ports and then carry Communist supplies.

Pressure in Washington can also be expected from Paul Hall's Seafarers' International Union (SIU). The SIU has been quietly active in Washington for months now.

I have been working closely with SIU officials, tracing the ships of other nations now supplying Cuba and Communist China. Thus, this column was able to expose the use of Marshal Tito's fleet on the waterborne Soviet supply line. Because of disclosures by this reporter, the Yugoslav motor vessel "Drzic" was picked in Houston the other day.

HERE, NOW, is a report on still another Tito freighter which has been making money out of our government — generated cargoes of surplus foodstuffs — and is serving the Moscow — Havana axis. She is the "Jablonika." Recently she carried a cargo from the Soviet Union to Cuba. Then she put in at a U.S. Gulf port.

On Sept. 15 she steamed with a hold full of flour, for Alexandria. The flour is, in effect, a gift from the United States to the United Arab Republic.

Such trade now is being rejected by Japan and the German Federal Republic. Why should the Norwegians, who fought one totalitarianism, want to serve those who are occupying an island as once their homeland was occupied?

It all will come out during the congressional investigation at which, in addition to Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Joe Curran, it is probable that Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, and Defense Secretary Robert Mcnamara will testify.

When the probe is over, there will be many who will tell our friends, the Norwegians, and those neutrals, the Yugoslavs, that the time has come when they must choose between Communist rubles and freedom before the choice is made for them.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

House Guest

Dear Ann: This is a delicate situation and I need to know how to handle it without hurting any feelings.

My husband's brother lost his wife about five months ago. They had no children and were a devoted couple.

We've done our best to fill his lonely hours. He's here for dinner about five nights a week. We take him almost everywhere with us.

The problem is not the evenings but the days. This brother-in-law owns his own business and seems to have a lot of time on his hands. Lately he's been dropping over at odd hours, like 9:30 a.m. after my husband has left for work and the children are in school. Sometimes he comes at 2 in the afternoon.

To be frank, I don't like it. I feel uncomfortable having him around when no one else is in the house.

Please tell me what to do? — ON THE SPOT.

Dear On the Spot: Ask your brother-in-law not to drop in during the day because his fascinating company interferes with your household chores.

If he doesn't take the hint, keep your drapes drawn, your door locked and ignore the bell.

Sitter's Dilemma

Dear Ann: I am a 16-year-old girl who is writing this letter on notebook paper while baby sitting. It is now 3:30 a.m. The people said they would be back by midnight.

I must go to 8 o'clock mass tomorrow morning, or I should say THIS morning, and I'm going to have a terrible time getting up.

I came at 8 p.m. and did all the dishes and put the four children to bed. They pay me 25 cents an hour and I need the money badly. I buy all my own clothes. My Dad isn't well and he hasn't worked in several months.

Some sitters sleep on the job but I feel responsible for the children and I could never do this. Do you think I should complain about the hours? — KATHY.

Dear Kathy: Indeed I do. And while you're at it complain about the pay, too. You should get at least 50 cents an hour. A girl who does the dishes, puts the children to bed and stays up out of a sense of duty is entitled to 50 cents an hour.

No 16-year-old should be expected to sit beyond 1 a.m. If a couple wishes to stay out till dawn they should hire an older woman and not a teen-ager.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: Why don't radio stations play soothing music after 11 or 12 o'clock? I wonder if they know that most people who listen to radio programs after midnight are insomniacs? We are dying to go to sleep and this jive does not allow sleeping.

I would most appreciate soft music which is most relaxing, instead of this high powered "diddlewah," which puts us on edge. I am wondering if they realize that when we are calmed down, we even enjoy those advertisement plugs!

Anyway you can help us who are up at midnight would be most appreciated. We all have transistors! Transistors are taken to our bedsides, but what good are they when they play unsoothing music?

TIED

DEAR HELOISE: I don't want to shock any of the women who read this column, but I would like them to know that my husband is a lawyer and he says that when a fabric is called "no iron," that's one subject, but when it says "drip dry," that drip dry means exactly what it says.

This type of article must not be wrung at all, because . . . the weight of the water is what pulls it and makes it smooth.

The gist of it all is that legally a drip dry is something that will drip dry. Meaning: anything that water will drip off of will eventually drip dry! Just like your cup and saucer.

LAWYER'S WIFE

DEAR HELOISE: When rice has burned, place a piece of fresh white bread crust — I usually use the heel — on top of the rice and cover the pot again. Within a few minutes the scorched taste will disappear. Later just remove the bread.

ELLN

DEAR HELOISE: Here's the

DEAR HELOISE: To keep macaroni from boiling over, I usually put a tablespoon or so of shortening in the water.

ANN

DEAR HELOISE: Never put white nylon garments in your wash with a colored garment. Even though the clothes are fast colored, the static electricity in the nylon draws the colors. White nylon should be washed with white clothes only.

HELEN SHEARD

DEAR HELOISE: Ever tried putting a caramel candy in a cup of hot tea? It's excellent! Not only does it give a little different taste to the tea, but it takes the place of the cream which you ordinarily add.

Mrs. Milburn D. Franke

Donna Jean Burton Wed To Milburn Don Franke

Emmanuel Lutheran Church, which the bridegroom serves as student assistant minister, was the scene of the wedding of Miss Donna Jean Burton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Burton of 929 N. Market St., Lisbon, and Milburn Don Franke, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Franke of Temple, Tex., Sunday.

worked for Walker both in the Army and in Texas.

But the "tens of thousands" Walker promised to lead to the support of Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett, fighting to prevent Negro James H. Meredith's enrollment at the University of Mississippi, never materialized.

The four charges filed against Walker were:

1. Assaulting, resisting, or impeding U.S. marshals.
2. Conspiring to prevent discharge of duties.
3. Inciting, assisting and engaging in insurrection against the authority of the United States.
4. Conspiring to oppose by force the execution of any law of the United States.

Taken before U.S. Commissioner Omar Craig, Walker waived his hearing after conferring by telephone with an unidentified attorney.

September Rain 2 Inches Over Average

Rainfall during September totaled 4.67 inches, almost two inches above the 2.94-inch average for the past 67 years, Edwin Copeland, Millport weather observer, reported.

September was the third month this year with above average moisture, the others being January and February. The past month had the largest amount of rainfall of any month since July 1961 when 4.81 inches were recorded, he declared.

However, Copeland said, the above normal rainfall broke the drought only on the upper eight inches of soil. The ground beneath is still bone dry and needs additional moisture to bring it back to normal.

Copeland said the area is short about 4.85 inches of rainfall this year.

The average temperature for last month was 59 degrees, four degrees lower than the 63 average for the past 67 years.

After consideration, it was agreed that in order to safeguard the health of the students in general, it would be necessary to uphold the recommendation of the state, as well as the original ruling of the board, that all children receive the benefits of the required immunizations and vaccines, including those for polio.

In other action, the board authorized purchase of two new typewriters for the commercial department and the purchase of 500 non-breakable bowls for use in the cafeteria.

former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker.

The military's mission was to protect the slightly built, 29-year-old Meredith's court-ordered status as a student at the university and to forestall further rioting on campus in Oxford.

Jeeps rattled through inky blackness on inspection of armed footsoldiers who dug foxholes beneath a softly falling rain. The campus was sealed off. So was the town square of Oxford, where short-lived skirmishes occurred on Monday between civilians and helmeted troops.

The highlight of Monday's kaleidoscopic segregation drama was the arrest of Walker, the spit-and-polish former Army general who led the 101st Airborne at Central High School during the Little Rock segregation crisis.

Walker, 53, resigned from the Army after a dispute over his indoctrination program for overseas American troops. He came here from his home in Dallas, Tex., after urging the massing of tens of thousands of volunteers to resist Meredith's registration.

On Sunday, Walker rallied rioting students on the Mississippi campus. He was arrested Monday after he shouted encouragement to rioters who hurled bottles and bricks at federal troops in Oxford's central square.

Walker failed to make $100,000 bond on charges that included engaging in insurrection against the American flag he once served. Maximum penalty upon conviction would be 20 years in prison and a $20,000 fine.

When he failed to post bond, Walker was whisked away to a Springfield, Mo., medical center for federal prisoners.

Sharp. Kraft, along with Thomas Henry Lawrence, 20, Lisbon RD 3, was indicted by the recalled April grand jury. Kraft pleaded guilty and requested probation July 2.

Franklin Trustees Discuss Road Care

SUMMITVILLE — At the monthly meeting of Franklin Township trustees in the Township House Monday evening, discussion centered on preparation of road-care equipment for winter use.

It was reported that all dirt roads in the township have been scraped since the September meeting of the trustees, and that the roads are in "good condition for this time of year."

Bills totaling $470 were paid during the last month. Forrest Thompson, president, presided at the meeting attended by all members. The next meeting is scheduled for Nov. 5 at the same place.

School Bus

emphasized appreciably when one considers the service that is provided and the fact that this service occurs five days a week, 36 weeks of the year.

WITH THE NUMBER OF pupils traveling by bus on the sharp increase, one might expect that there are students who arrive at school before dawn and leave just in time to get to bed. However, because of the efficient schedules and adequate number of buses provided by the school systems, the earliest any student arrives at school is 30 minutes before it convenes, and the longest he must wait after school is about the same.

Nor does a rider spend "all of his life from September to May" on the bus. The farthest distance any pupil in the area must ride is 18 miles, and the longest time he spends riding is 40 minutes per trip or 80 minutes per day.

These figures are extremes and the average is much lower. In Columbiana and Lisbon schools, for example, the longest bus trip is five miles. Even though many students can be heard complaining about the length of time they must spend on the bus, most of them will grudgingly agree that it beats walking.

EDUCATORS STRESS THE safety of the school bus as an important feature. One declares it to be "the safest transportation today because people respect the school bus." Trained mechanics are employed to keep a close inspection of the vehicles at all times. Also, an inspection conducted by the State Highway Patrol each fall is "very comprehensive and demanding," according to Phillips. "A bus is judged unsatisfactory for a minor defect, and the driver given three days to correct it," he said. "A bus is judged unserviceable if any defect is found that affects the safety of the children, and it is not to be permitted to carry any children until the defect is corrected," he added.

Considering the vast scale upon which school transportation is performed, it is no wonder that one educator described the subject of school buses as "one of the biggest headaches in the life of an administrator."

And to give school officials additional sleepless nights, the pace of suburban growth insures that the transportation problem can proceed in only one direction in the foreseeable future — from bad to worse.

The Division of Wildlife was requested to provide sanitary facilities for fishermen at Guilford Lake.

Two communities reported on plans underway for restoration of Gaston's Mill and the Beaver Creek Park, with a tour of the park by legislators scheduled Oct. 13.

A contract was read by the clerk for fire protection to the village, but the matter was tabled.

Mayor McCreary read a lease agreement for the Community Hall between the village of Rogers and firemen of the Volunteer Fire Department. Firemen are to remodel the west end of the hall which is being used as stage area and office.

After remodeling, this section will house fire trucks and equipment and the village truck. This matter was tabled and will be discussed at a special meeting Monday at 7 p.m. at Community Hall.

Dodgers Lose 8-0, Must Win Today To Stay Alive

Alston's Job May Depend On Finish

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Not only the Dodgers' World Series hopes but Los Angeles manager Walter Alston's scalp may hang in the balance in today's second game of the National League pennant playoff between the Dodgers and the Giants of San Francisco.

There have been backhand mutterings by people close to the Dodgers that Alston's continued association with the club depends upon the team's finish. If the Dodgers win the pennant, Alston stays, is the word. If they lose, he loses, too.

If this is true, Alston may be packing Wednesday. The shocking 8-0 defeat in San Francisco in the playoff opener Monday threw the slump-ridden Dodgers into their worst predicament of the year in what must be regarded as the biggest foldup in modern history.

It is not only that the Dodgers have lost 11 of their last 14, five in a row. It is not only that they've skidded from four games in front to one game behind in nine days. But it is the ease with which enemy pitchers have been able to contain their best hitters.

The Dodgers have not scored in the last 30 innings. They've managed only 10 hits off Ernie Broglio and Curt Simmons of the St. Louis Cardinals and Billy Pierce of the Giants in the last three games.

If the Dodgers aren't dead, they're no great ad for the living. They resemble a tired, beaten

Unbeaten Salem Battles Marietta

Alliance's devastating victory over Massillon 46-0 and Warren's easy disposal of Lima Senior 42-0 created the most state-wide attention during the past week.

But down in the southern part of the state at Marietta, (Salem's opponent Friday night) the unbeaten Tigers, 4-0, also were gaining some recognition. The Quakers are also 4-0.

The sportswriters and radio sportscasters moved the Tigers into the top 10 in this week's Ohio High School AP football poll.

Last week Marietta was 14th, a position the Quakers now hold, and this week the Tigers are ninth.

Salem scouts attending the Marietta 32-18 win over Columbus West reported that the Tigers have a fine team, with an exceptionally good quarterback.

Coach Blaine Morton said, "We think Marietta is as good as Farrell and maybe even better."

The Salem mentor planned long hard defensive workouts for his squad this week geared against Marietta's offensive attack.

Halfback Dave Taus, injured in the 18-13 Farrell win, has completely recovered and will be ready for action Friday.

The game is scheduled for 9 p.m. Daylight Savings Time.

Morton will have versatile Bill Beery back at his old quarterback

Ohio State Selected No. 1 In AP Poll; Alabama Is 2nd

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

After taking a back seat for just one week, Ohio State was back in the No. 1 spot in the weekly Associated Press football poll today.

The power-packed Buckeyes were voted the top team in the nation in the AP pre-season poll, but when Alabama, the defending champion, won its first game convincingly, the sports writers and sportscasters who do the voting had some second thoughts.

They sent the Crimson Tide, the defending national champions, to the top in the first of the regular-season polls.

But after Ohio State's crushing 41-7 victory over North Carolina in its opener last Saturday, the Buckeyes edged back into first place with 335 votes to 329 for Alabama, which crushed Tulane, 44-6.

The Crimson Tide actually compiled more first place votes than Ohio State—19 to 18—but the Buckeyes had more general support. The votes are awarded on a basis of 10 points for first place, nine for second and so on down the list.

No other team really came close to the two front-runners. Texas held on to its No. 3 spot with 266 points and Penn State continued at No. 4 with 227 points. Louisiana State, rated one of Alabama's main rivals for the Southeastern Conference championship, tumbled out of the top ten along with Michigan State and Missouri.

The top ten, with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. Ohio State (18) 335
2. Alabama (19) 329
3. Texas (3) 266
4. Penn State 227
5. Georgia Tech 178

Houston Will Meet Ole Miss Despite Disorder

HOUSTON (AP)—The University of Houston football team is ready to take on the University of Mississippi Saturday despite current disorder in Oxford, Miss.

"We're going over there to play football and nothing else," said one member of the squad. "Sure we want to play them. They're on the schedule aren't they?"

Houston Athletic Director Harry Fouke tried all day Monday to contact Mississippi Athletic Director Tad Smith by telephone to check on the status of the game, but could not reach him.

"It's their game and we've heard nothing from them," Fouke said. "Until we do, we are proceeding in our preparation to play the game as contracted."

Ole Miss Coach John Vaught said in Oxford his team was working hard in practice sessions for the Houston game, and added: "There is nothing I have discovered to change our plans about playing Houst Saturday."

Salem Picked 14th; Marietta Is 9th

Alliance Chosen No.1 In Survey

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Victory over Massillon's seven-time state champions appears to be a free ticket to the top spot in the Associated Press Ohio high school football poll.

Fremont Ross whipped the once terrific Tigers 8-7 in the opener and led last week's ratings by the state's sports writers. Friday night Alliance's Aviators blanked their cross-county rivals 46-0, and today Mel Knowlton's once-beaten crew heads the list.

Alliance came back from an opening game 13-8 loss to Lima Senior in a bid to repeat its 1958 state title drive. Fremont was forced to score in the final 30 seconds to defeat Findlay 14-6 last Friday, and the close shave with the one-game winners dumped the Little Giants to second.

Niles McKinley, 1961 state champ and second a week ago, slipped to fourth after nicking Youngstown Cardinal Mooney 16-6. Middletown breezed over Newark 52-14 to cling to third, but the Butler countians almost closed the gap.

Massillon, after the Alliance rout, dropped out of the Top 10, as did Kettering Fairmont, which lost 12-6 to Xenia. Moving in were Marietta (9th) and Steubenville's Big Red (10th).

From here and there:

Keep an eye on those Warren Panthers. They're in fifth place despite an opening 6-6 tie with Mansfield. Last week they trapped Lima Senior 42-0, the same team which trimmed top-spot Alliance.

Jackson lost to Logan 20-0, its first loss in 19 and its first shut-out since 1958. And Springfield North suffered its first loss in history, 28-12 to Hamilton Garfield. The new school had an 18-0-1 record up to Friday night.

Harry Wilson, 180-pound Steubenville halfback, scored five touchdowns in the 68-22 rout of Pittsburgh Schenley — giving him 11 for four games.

Just 30 years ago Alliance coach Mel Knowlton was the Massillon quarterback—and Alliance beat him 30-6 on its way to a clean season. That was Alliance's best effort against the Tigers until the whopping 46-0 win last Friday. The Aviators outgained Massillon 447 yards to 129, and halfback Chet Bryant of the winners ran for three touchdowns and 153 yards—one score coming on a 75-yarder.

Findlay was penalized 90 yards in the first half against Fremont but was tied 6-6 with 30 seconds to go when the Little Giants scored on a fourth-and-four situation from the seven-yard line.

Lorain Admiral King and Toledo Scott were scoreless in the first half, but Lorain went 53, 55, 57, 24 and 82 yards for second-half touchdowns and a 40-0 verdict.

Circleville's senior quarterback, Dave Hannahs, completed 9 of 16 passes for 314 yards in the 48-8 romp over Pleasantview, and Harold Dade has nine touchdowns for the four-game winners.

Jim Byrd, 14-year-old freshman halfback from Mount Vernon, scored a 76-yard touchdown against Coshocton the first time he carried a ball in competition.

Salem was down 13-12 to Farrell, Pa., with 3:30 remaining, then went 59 yards in 8 plays to wrap up its fourth straight win 18-13 on fullback Bob Owens' two-yard plunge.

Mansfield Madison suffered its first loss, 14-12, when Columbus Watterson scored in the last 33 seconds and John Schultheis ran for the winning extra points.

Madison's Joe Pearce scored on a 98-yard quarterback rollout for the first courier.

Dave Weaver of Highland Local (Morrow) scored five touchdowns—one on a pass—to beat Jeromesville. And Bellville's Carl Ruhl scored three times and gained 151 yards in eight carries against Butler.

With 48 seconds left, Loudonville led Plymouth 12-6. But Jim Hamman passed 60 yards to Phil Fletcher to tie it, and the same pair clicked for a two-point conversion. Plymouth won 14-12.

Deep in this week's poll is a new school in Pickaway County known as Teays Valley. Last week the school defeated highly-favored Madison South 14-0, allowing a total of only 79 yards passing and running.

It was Teays' fourth in a row, and it has allowed only one score. The coach is Marion Waits, former assistant at Marion Harding, who sends his team against unbeaten Cedarville next Friday. All this comes from Rebecca Rockey, 105 Circleville Ave., Ashville — probably the only co-ed football publicist in the Buckeye realm.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Here's how 45 sports editors, 29 from newspapers and 16 from radio-TV stations, rate Ohio's high school football teams in this week's Associated Press poll.

Shown are the first place votes in parentheses, the poll points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis and the scoring records of the leaders.

The Top Ten

Teams	Poll Pts.	Scoring
Alliance (7)	258	148-33
Fremont Ross (8)	248	83-14
Middletown (10)	246	204-56
Niles (4)	232	116-12
Warren (3)	168	156-6
Sandusky (9)	140	142-32
Cin. Roger Bacon (6)	100	133-20
Lorain Adm. King (9)	99	94-14
Marietta (2)	64	118-38
Steubenville (1)	57	173-46

Alliance has a 3-1-0 scoring record; Fremont Ross, Middletown, Niles, Lorain Admiral King, Marietta and Steubenville are 4-0-0; Warren and Sandusky are 3-0-1, and Cincinnati Roger Bacon is 3-0-0.

Brown Seeks Speed, Will Start Green

"I want to see if getting Ernie in there will help our pass offense," Brown said Monday night. "He's done well on every assignment given him. You go with experience as long as you can, but the situation seems to call for a change."

In only spot action in preseason games, Green gained 299 yards on nine kickoff returns and 93 yards on five punt runbacks. The 5-foot-2, 205-pounder also caught five passes for 60 yards and carried nine times for 33 yards.

Brown said whether Jim Ninkowski would remain the starting quarterback depends on his physical condition.

"Jim didn't seem to have his normal agility (against Philadelphia Sunday) so it may have been a mistake trying to play him," Brown explained. "I feel that injured knee must have been a factor. He was sub-par physically. "Nino was accurate, a fine passer during the exhibitions. I still have confidence in him."

QUESTIONS-ANSWERS

WORDS

Stupid or just a victim of my imagination. Don't let this happen to you.

Not long ago I was in a city not far away. I pulled up to a traffic light, it was red. I stopped. A policeman was stopping there. We exchanged greetings. I must have thought I was at the little red jewel because I didn't wait for the light to turn green, I went through.

To you, Mr. Policeman, I apologize. Thanks for not arresting me. It won't happen again. I will remember what town I am in next time.

Worry of FALSE TEETH Slipping or Irritating?

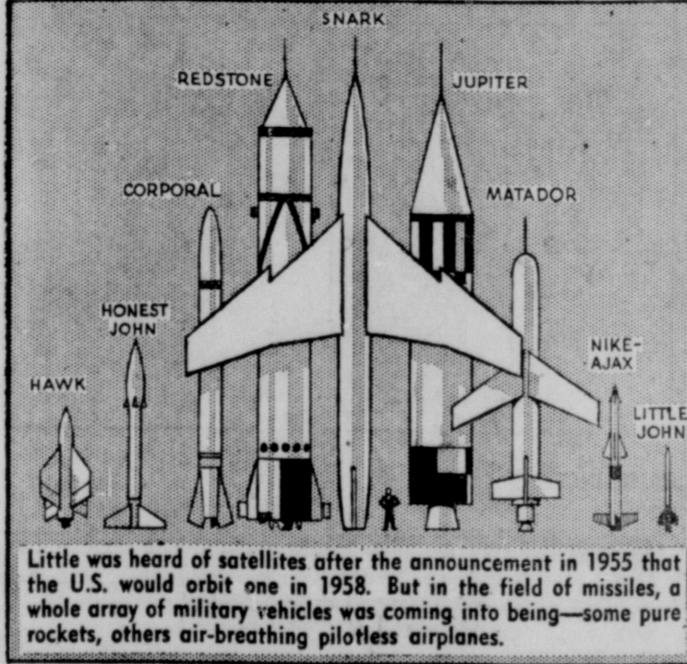

Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Sputnik Plus Five

Little was heard of satellites after the announcement in 1955 that the U.S. would orbit one in 1958. But in the field of missiles, a whole array of military vehicles was coming into being—some pure rockets, others air-breathing pilotless airplanes.

(2) Red Star Rising

Russian claim in August 1957 that they had perfected an intercontinental ballistic missile (5,000-mile range) brought the chilling realization that they might be ahead of us. Experts studied pictures of Red Square parades for hints of Soviet rocket progress.

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane

On Oct. 4, 1957, however, proof came in a shot truly heard round the world—the orbiting of Sputnik I. Its surprising weight of 184 pounds was far ahead of anything contemplated in America's Vanguard Project.
